FORWORD—This 1944 Kewanite aims to portray through pictures and words—Kewanee High School, reflecting its progress in the midst of war.

Before Classes

Administration Adjusts

Supt. Chas. Bruner, Elva Morrison, Adela Wesebaum.

To Superintendent Charles E. Bruner has come, this year, the task of adjusting Kewanee schools to the changes brought about by the war. With faculty and students leaving to join the armed forces, the job has not been easy.

During these times of economic and social dislocation, instructional programs must be maintained. Mr. Bruner and his force have maintained the efficiency of our schools in spite of all the difficulties. Mr. Bruner is assisted in his office by his efficient office secretary, Miss Adela Wesebaum and by Miss Elva Morrison. Miss Wesebaum is also secretary to the Board of Education.

Back of Mr. Bruner stands the Board of Education, responsible for our public schools from the first grade through the twelfth. With a chiropodist, Dr. L. L. Spanabel, as president; a baker, Mr. F. H. Steele; an accountant in the Boiler Company office, Fred Porter; a foreman from Walworth Company, Lester Alderman; an insurance agent, Dan Heinrich; clerk at Walworth, Louis Mitton; Boiler Company office clerk, Ralph Sjoberg—these men representing a cross section of the citizens of Kewanee—have given freely of their time and efforts to maintain an efficient school. In war or peace, we owe a great deal to our board and superintendent.

Board of Education:
Lester Alderman, Louis Mitton, F. H. Steele, Charles Bruner, L. L. Spanabel, Adela Wesebaum, Fred Porter
Dan Heinrich, and Ralph Sjoberg.

School For Future

Office Secretary Shirley Bloedorn

Principal K. B. Beasley

New to Kewanee High this year is Principal K. B. Beasley. His aim has been to maintain and carry on the high ideals of Kewanee High. Mr. Beasley has made few changes this year. He has aimed to help students with their problems, but has encouraged them to make their own decisions. He has acted as faculty adviser to the Student Council, where he has had frequent conferences with individuals and committees. His first year at K.H.S. has shown an understanding of our problems and a desire to improve Kewanee High.

Mr. Beasley did his undergraduate work at Shurtliff College and received his Masters degree from University of Illinois. He was a high school principal before coming here.

Miss Shirley Bloedorn is Mr. Beasley's secretary. In the outer office, she takes care of absence and tardy slips and all of the office routine. She, too, shows an understanding of the students' problems.

As dean of girls, Miss Dorothy Harrod keeps a record of all the girls in school. Miss Harrod visits the home of all incoming freshmen. She also advises girls concerning programs, particularly juniors, so that they will have a sufficient number of majors and minors for graduation, and helps girls with any of their problems. She keeps records of failing students and holds conferences with the girls to help them overcome failures. She also chaperones after-school and after-game social hours.

Shop, Commercial Courses Teach Students

The call for civil service typists found many students from K.H.S. commercial department ready and able to take their places in the war-time business world. Class work has been supplemented by practical problems in office procedure.

Beginning phases of the commercial department are typing I and shorthand I which are taught by Miss Louise Murphy. Miss Eva Berg teaches typing II and shorthand II. These subjects emphasize speed and accuracy. Commercial geography, also taught by Miss Eva Berg, gives the student a knowledge of world commerce.

Under the watchful eye of Mr. W. J. Stronks, the bookkeeping classes learn how to keep their employers' books correctly or how to keep their household budget balanced. In the junior business training class, taught by Mr. Stronks, the students learn the fundamental principles of office work.

Miss Elsie Kimmel teaches business arithmetic in which the mathematics of business is taught. The aim of the commercial department is to offer such practical training as well as develop understanding and efficiency in those fundamental business operations and skills needed to train young people for a future in the business world.

By the end of the first year students in typing must attain a speed of 35 words per minute for ten minutes. Second year students must attain a speed of 45 words a minute for fifteen minutes. During the second year typing students learn to use the mimeograph.

Shorthand students, too, have a standard to meet. First year students must be able to take dictation at the rate of 60 words per minute for five minutes. In the second year they must be able to take 100 words per minute for five minutes.

Useful Wartime Skills

Emphasis has been placed on industrial arts as a present emergency course and as a basis for future vocations. The machine shop course has steadily developed and trained boys until some of them have been able to go directly into defense plants. Industrial arts play a prominent part in our vocational courses now, more than ever, since people skilled in engineering are needed.

Mr. Paul McMorris teaches machine shop I, woodworking II and trades drawing. Machine shop II, mechanical drawing II and general building trades are taught by Mr. Galen Landis. Mr. Irven Sutton, a new member of our faculty, conducts classes in woodworking I and mechanical drawing I and II.

War vocational classes have proved to be of the greatest help in this national emergency. This year these classes are conducted for people interested in preparation for defense plant work. In this way, industrial arts train many competent students to take their places in needed war work.

English, Languages

Promoting international good-feeling and understanding is the study of foreign languages. Spanish has introduced us to Pan-American countries and given us an understanding of our Latin-American neighbors. The Spanish class is taught this year by Miss Eleanor Miller. It is not strange to hear a Spanish greetin the halls, "Buenos dias."

Latin acquaints students with the classics and the culture of the Romans. In Latin I and II the students, under the instruction of Miss Dorothy Harrod, gain an appreciation of ancient culture. Through Latin the student has a glimpse of the history and of the famous men of Rome.

Freedom of speech is another of the things we fight for. Never has speech been more important. The privilege of free speech demands the obligation of intelligent speech.

Miss Florence Drake, a new member of the faculty, teaches the students to appreciate good public speaking. At the beginning of the year the students of speech classes were taught the principles of conversation in preparation for a reception held for our new principal. Students were then taught play production and they presented three one-act plays. Speeches of persuasion and entertainment, fundamentals of parliamentary law, and scenery construction are also emphasized.

Cultivate Citizens

The English department has done its share in keeping alive "the things for which we fight" by continuing to teach our language and literature. A ready command of the English language will be of utmost importance in the post war world. To write a just peace will be the business of the future years, and a just peace cannot be lasting unless all have the ability to understand the printed pages. Education of the students in the appreciation of the ideals of democracy is another of the purposes of the English class.

Teaching English I classes during the past year has been Miss Ruth Knapp. Miss Frances Horler taught English III and IV. Classes in English II and journalism were taught by Miss Eleanor Johnson.

Kewanee's library is aware of its wartime responsibilities and has endeavored to meet them by keeping its book collection abreast of the times.

This year the books most in demand were those on the armed forces and vocations. Attractive displays around the room attract interest to new books and keep students informed on current events.

Miss Clara Hagerman, a new teacher, is the librarian. Her personal interest in the students has made her popular. The first of the year, she gave lessons on how to use the library to freshmen.

In Art Class

Arts Stress Democratic Ideals

Continually at work on some Red Cross or war project, the art department has demonstrated its utility as well as decorativeness.

Craft classes work with woodcarving ceramics, weaving and basketry, leather tooling, block printing, and stenciling of textiles.

Students in drawing learn to use pencil, pen, ink, charcoal, pastel, watercolor, oil, and tempera, as well as air brush, and the silk screen.

Another art, household arts, is concerned in a very practical way with at least one of the "Four Freedoms", chiefly freedom from want. Besides studying the homemaker's problems in caring for the home in days of rationing, girls in home economics learn the skills of home management.

Three courses are offered: homemaking II, which teaches the funda- the principles of foods and homemaking III, the advanced problems of both.

Miss Anna Weimer teaches homemaking II and III. Miss Wilma Summers who is new to Kewanee this year teaches homemaking I.

Home economics girls have done much to assist in Red Cross work. Girls have made hospital slippers and utility bags.

Band at Game

Glee Club Rehearsing

Band, Choral Groups Express Patriotism

As the band plays the stirring strains of our national anthem and the flag is raised in the first few moments before the football games, all present are deeply moved.

The orange and black uniforms of our band have become a common sight in Kewanee. The band now adds color to both basketball and football games. In commemoration of Armistice Day, they expressed their patriotism in music.

During this year, the band had thirty-nine members, the smallest membership in many years. Twenty-four of them are taking the course five days a week.

In the spring they presented their annual concert to an appreciative audience, ending a successful year under the capable direction of Mr. Louis R. Broaddus, a new member of our faculty.

The choir, this year, directed by Mr. Fred Waterman, presented an assembly on Navy Day and sang on many other programs. The members are chosen on the basis of their singing ability. For this reason, it is an honor to be a member of the choir. There are thirty members this year.

In the Freshman Girls' Glee Club, members are trained for advanced choral work. The Senior Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club meet four days a week and combine for chorus on the fifth day.

Mr. Waterman.
Mr. Broaddus.

Science Is Vital

Science has never before in the history of the world played a more vital part in the preservation of the democratic way of life than during this present struggle.

Because modern warfare is so closely associated with technical developments, most of the branches of the military services require at least a basic understanding of physics.

Biology and chemistry are prerequisites to the training of doctors and nurses. The government call for persons of these professions awakened many to the vital role they play in winning the war.

Biology gives a better understanding of our surroundings. Chemistry, in the past few years, has had unprecedented development. War emergency has given chemistry another stimulation to growth.

General science, as the basis for more advanced courses, is taught by Miss Naomi Hawkins and Mr. John Denning, a new member of our faculty. Miss Louise Ewan teaches biology. Classes in chemistry are also conducted by Mr. Denning.

The science departments are helping in the fight for freedom by preparing technically trained men and women for important work in both the military services and the home front.

To War Effort

Mathematics is being especially stressed this year as it prepares the students for entrance into the armed forces of our country. Mathematics teaches the students to think clearly and exactly when working with large numbers. Miss Harriet McCarthy instructs the students in algebra, advanced algebra and trigonometry. Miss Elsie Kimmel teaches plane and solid geometry and business arithmetic. We have learned the value of mathematics for personal use as well as armed forces or college entrance requirements.

Social science has an important place in the preparation of the future leaders of America. It is in these subjects that we learn the problems that face the world today and those that we have faced in the past. World history and U. S. history are taught by Miss Irma Stewart. Courses of civics, economics, debate, modern problems, and U. S. history are taught by Mr. Leo Graham. Mr. Stanley Sosnouski also teaches a class of U. S. history. It is in these classes, of the social science, that students become familiar with latest world affairs through the various current event magazines. Through the help of social sciences, we broaden our background, and gain a deeper understanding of the past.

Coach Brockman Demonstrates.

P. E. Develops Physical, Mental Coordination

Getting students into better physical condition is the aim of the athletic department of Kewanee High. Physical education teaches students the value of fair play and team work. Physical fitness is not physical alone but also includes mental and emotional stability.

The girls' department is managed by Miss Dorothy Stouffer, who also advises G.A.A. Not only are the regular girls' athletics becoming more popular, but extra-curricular work is getting more interesting to students yearly. Bowling, swimming, basketball, and baseball are the most popular sports with the girls.

The boys' athletics are affected by war time conditions. The boys' athletic program is also emphasizing physical fitness. The courses in physical education, as well as the intramural program have been made more strenuous. Practically every boy in school is enrolled in some type of athletic activity.

Perhaps the greatest singular reason for the growing interest in physical education is the military athletic program. Coach Helmut Brockman is in charge of the boys' physical education program.

War Makes Changes In Outlook Of Seniors

When the class of 1944 entered high school, no one realized that in four short years they would graduate under conditions by no means normal.

The seniors started the year by electing Hugh DeMorest, president, and choosing Miss Frances Horler as adviser.

During this year, they have been leaders in sports. Ed Tunnicliff was chosen all-state quarterback. Bob Fulton received the honor of having the highest number of place kicks in football in the state. Dick Green was outstanding in track.

The junior year was spent under the direction of Bill Johnson, president, and Miss Ruth Reu, adviser. As juniors they played a major part in the state tournament basketball team; but not forgetting the social side, they presented a "Winter-Wonderland" prom.

During the sophomore year, with Mary Madsen, president; and Mr. P. V. McMorris, adviser, a party was held. As freshmen, Miss Ruth Knapp was their adviser.

Dean Godke

Dean Reiff

Tragedy struck twice in the Senior Class when two members were taken from the group last year.

On August 1, 1943, Dean Reiff, popular senior student died from complications following an appendectomy.

He was actively interested in sports and would have been on the varsity football squad this year. Dean's favorite subjects in school were shop courses. During the summer months preceding his death, he was employed by the Kewanee Boiler Corporation.

Dean Godke was instantly killed by a freight train when going home from work on December 21, 1943.

An active member of the senior class, he played the tuba in the band for four years. Trades classes were his favorite subjects in school. He was employed by Montgomery Ward and Co., after school.

Juniors Plan Prom

Officers:
Standing: Margaret Krumtinger, Margaret DePauw.
Seated: Bill Jones, Marjorie Greenstreet, and Miss Miller.

With the Junior play, "The Thirteenth Chair," and the Prom as the two outstanding events, the Juniors made this year a success.

President Bill Jones lead the class of "45" with the help of the adviser, Miss Eleanor Miller. Four boys of the class, Bill Egert, Bob Graves, Ted Mirocha, and Russell Conklin, made the first string varsity of Kewanee High's best football teams. Bill Egert, Bob Graves, Tom Briggs, Ralph Sjoberg, and Jim Schmidt, made the varsity basketball team, which tied for honors in the Northwest Conference.

As Sophomores, the class of "45" picked Tom Briggs as president. Eleven boys were on the Riveter's football team which won seven out of six games. They were Tom Briggs, Bill Egert, Jim Schmidt, Ralph Sjoberg, Eugene Behnke, Bob Hanson, Earl Morrison, Dick Hildreth, Bob Williams, and Bill Flostrom.

Their Sophomore basketball team went through the season with twelve wins to eight losses, to take fourth place in the Northwest Conference.

On April 30, we held a very successful Sophomore class party. Miss Elsie Kimmell was adviser.

Looking back on the freshman year—Eugene Behnke was the president, and the Frosh-Senior Reception was the big social event. Miss Ruth Knapp acted as adviser this year.

Sophomores Become Active in K.H.S.

Entering high school in 1942, the class of '46 was anxious to take advantage of all that Kewanee High had to offer.

During their freshman year they began to show their talents in athletics. Bob Norquist was on the varsity football squad, and many others played on the Riveter team. In basketball, the class of '46 was active on the Riveter team.

Under the direction of the sponsor, Miss Ruth Knapp, and the president, Jack Remick, a party was held in the spring.

This year, the sophomores have been still more active. With Jack Remick again as president, and Miss Naomi Hawkins as adviser, the class was again active in sports and social activities.

In football, Bob Norquist was center on the varsity squad. Skippy Erickson and Warren Stenwall were co-captains of the Riveter team, which had a successful season. Sam Betar, Tom Early, Adam Lazar, Leroy Tharp, and Dick Baker were also active on the team.

Freshmen Tackle Problems of High School

When this school year started, a new group of 210 freshmen began their high school careers. A few days later they elected Edward Yastrow as president, and Martha Boley as vice-president. As secretary, they chose Dorothy Beens, and Jack Deisher as treasurer. They were guests at a Senior-Freshman Reception which was held at Irving gym shortly after this.

The freshmen are proud of their class, not only because of the freshmen boys who play on Riveter football squads, but because they have had more "A" students than any other class.

The class colors are blue and white but red could easily be added, for the patriotic frosh bought many stamps and bonds this year. Mr. Denning, as class adviser, has guided the freshmen during their first year of high school.

The freshmen, combined with the seniors, versus the sophomores and juniors had a contest to see which team could bring in the most scrap metal, paper and rags. The freshmen-senior team were the victors. The freshmen were proud not only to beat the sophomore-juniors, but were also proud of every bit of scrap they brought in.

The freshmen class really worked on the magazine campaign and the money they brought in was used for the social room. The class also has many expert dancers and every night after school they could be seen "showing their stuff" in the social room.

Boilermakers Tie For

Helmut F. Brockman, known as "Brock" to his players, has brought renown to K.H.S. in his four years here. He has brought Kewanee its first football championship, as well as two basketball championships.

The Kewanee Boilermakers in football, basketball, track, and baseball, added to their fame with record-breaking exploits. The golden year in sports was set off by a great football team which won 9 of 10 games and tied for Northwest Conference honors. Turning to the hardwoods, the basketball team likewise shared the Northwest championship and also tied for fifth in state tournament play in which 930 teams competed. The track and baseball teams were also outstanding.

The coaching staff was headed by H. F. Brockman. Assisting him were Stan Sosnouski and Galen Landis.

"Sos" was new to Kewanee this year. He assisted "Brock" in baseketball and track. Landis, the veteran Riveter coach, assisted "Brock" in football and coached Riveter basketball.

Football Coaches:
Brockman and Landis.

Kewanee 34 Monmouth 0

Continuing their winning ways, the undefeated Boilermaker football machine rolled over the Zippers in a Homecoming attraction. Not too impressive in scoring, only seven points in the first half, the Orange and Black scored 27 in the last.

Kewanee 34 Canton 0

The highly publicized Tunnicliff-Zaborac duel turned out to be Fulton's night, as the big fullback ran, passed and place-kicked Kewanee to their seventh straight victory. Other standouts were Graves in the line, the pass-catching of Green, and signal-calling of Tunnicliff.

Kewanee 14 East Moline 0

Kewanee, stopping the illusive Gnatovich and plunging Jack, beat a veteran East Moline "eleven". The Orange and Black marched 77 yards to their first touchdown and Tunnicliff raced 62 yards for the second. Gordon Johnson and Graves played "heads up" ball in the line.

Kewanee 6 Galesburg 20

A high spirited Galesburg outfit snapped Kewanee's victory string at 12. The hosts found Kewanee way off form. Knotting the score at 7-all in the second period, Kewanee just couldn't come through the second half.

Kewanee 14 Princeton 6

In the season finale at Bryant Field, Kewanee defeated its traditional foe in a bitterly fought contest. The Tigers struck through the air to "draw first blood" but Brock's boys, eight of them playing their last game, struck back with Dyer and Tunnicliff reaching "pay dirt".

The Boilermakers, this year, were a powerful unit, consisting of a fleet corps of backs fronted by a hard-charging line. They were a versatile team. Their defense was one of the best and they knew how to play the breaks. On the offense they had the ability to strike through the air or on the ground. Their specialty was on the ground where they combined sheer power and speed with devastating effect. All these are tributes to Coach Brockman, his staff and the team, for at the outset Kewanee was the dark horse of the conference. In the Havana game, seven men, for the first time, started a varsity game

This team was essentially a unit, but eleven men, substitutes, and a coach were all vital factors to the success of that unit. Dick Green, Gordon Johnson, Bob Graves, Bob Fulton, and Lloyd Dyer received all-state honorable mention for their season's play. Ed Tunnicliff was selected as quarterback on every major Illinois state team. Bob Fulton's 22 points after touchdown led the state in that department.

Dyer and Fulton as co-captains were real inspirations to their team-mates. The team's steadiest player was the tribute paid to Dyer. He accounted for many first downs, especially on weak-side plunge. Fullback Fulton was an ace passer and defensive line backer. He was definitely an all-state prospect until incurring a knee injury in the Canton game, his best of the year. Our all-state signal caller, Ed Tunnicliff, directed the team like the veteran he is, and accounted for record-breaking 114 points.

State Recognition

At left end, Bob Brand could always be depended on to carry out his blocking assignments or to come through with a hard tackle. The left tackle position was capably handled by Gordon Johnson, whose work in the East Moline game was nothing less than spectacular. His specialty was in blocking punts.

Russ Conkling added weight and fight to the Kewanee line and recovered many a fumble. Blazier, who on occasions had the wind knocked out of him, gave it back in verbal shellackings. Because of his fighting spirit and the adeptness of his educated toe for sending kick-offs down the field, Kenny Hanks saw considerable action. An agile pass receiver and end-around runner, Dick Green was a constant defensive threat. His pass catching against Canton was outstanding. All of the above will be lost by graduation, but the examples they have set and victories won will never be forgotten.

There were three juniors who were mighty cogs in this year's football machine. Egert stepped up from the Riveters to become a power on offense and defense. His running and pass receiving in the Princeton tussle made that game his best. Bob Graves' great love for the game was indicated by his slashing tackles. In the Canton game he repeatedly stopped the famed Zaborac. These two will serve as next year's co-captains. Ted Mirocha, termed the most improved, could run, tackle, and block with the best. He should have a great year in '44.

Riveter Football Team Wins Games in Boiler Style

The 1943 Riveters completed another successful season, winning five while dropping three close contests. Victories over Wethersfield, Galva and Galesburg, whose varsity was the only team to defeat the Boilermakers, highlighted the year.

SCHEDULE

Riveters	7	Geneseo	13
Riveters	25	Galva	0
Riveters	51	Toulon	13
Riveters	33	Galva	0
Riveters	6	Toulon	13
Riveters	20	Wethersfield	0
Riveters A	13	Galesburg	7
Riveters B	6	Princeton	19

The Riveters, who had a total of three coaches, Angus Clark, Gene Ziles, and Fred Kuster, gained valuable experience and were soundly drilled in football fundamentals. This was not their first taste of football, however, as most of the boys participated in the sport as seventh and eighth graders. The determination, ability, experience, weight and number of these boys gives promise of Kewanee's continued prominence in sports.

Peterson, Don and Ray Vinson, Bill Remick, Hoyt, Furnald, and Nass were "pillars" in the line. The backfield posts were capably handled by O'Conner, Erickson, Stenwall, and Joe Robinson. Many of the Riveters were raised to varsity status and were valuable additions to Coach Brockman's team.

Basketball Team Goes To State

Co-captains and Coach:
Tunnicliff, Brockman and Moe.

Kewanee, for the second straight year, carried the Orange and Black banner to the State Finals at the U. of I's George Huff Gymnasium. The road to Champaign was not an easy one and the Boilermakers won seven consecutive tournament contests before succumbing to the champion Taylorville Tornadoes in the quarter-finals. Kewanee defeated Paris, the champions of last year, in the first-round game.

This year's quintet won twenty-four out of thirty games for an .800 average. For the fourth consecutive year, the Boilers established a new scoring record, making 1,279 points.

Kewanee won the Northwest Conference championship along with Galesburg and Rock Island, while taking second honors in the Illini.

A fighting and fast-breaking band of Boilermakers, who also possessed poise and smoothness, were responsible for this grand list of achievements. Captained by Moe and Tunnicliff, the team was led in point production by Fulton and Moe, and was backed by capable reserves.

When the gun sounded, announcing the finish of the Kewanee-Taylorville fracas, seven boys had played their last game for K. H. S. You can be sure they will play ball for their country as they did for their school.

Boiler Five Ties For First Place In N. W. Conference

Kewanee 42 Geneseo 26

The Boilermakers inaugurated the 1943-44 season at Geneseo with a decision over the veteran Maple-leafs. Kewanee was not too impressive in their debut, but Fulton collected 13 points.

Kewanee 38 Morrison 20

Kewanee opened the home season with some cold shooting, hitting for only 15 per cent. Their stellar defense was sufficient to subdue the Morrison "five."

Kewanee 31 Peoria Spaulding 20

Playing the best basketball of the young season, Kewanee had little difficulty with the Friars. Fulton connected for 13 points and Tunnicliff, 8, as the speedy and clever Delgado, Spaulding mainstay, was held to 6.

Kewanee 33 Sterling 15

The Boilers, staying in the win column, easily vanquished a green Sterling quintet. Bob Fulton again led in point production with 12, while Sterling's Leseman netted 8.

Kewanee 36 East Moline 25

Although noticeably weakened by the flu epidemic and without the services of Robinson and Coach Brockman, the Boilermakers were still too powerful for the Hilltoppers. Behind, 15-12, at the half, the Sos-men forged ahead, 27-29, in the third.

Kewanee 35 Galesburg 39

The speedy Streaks, led by the unusual marksmanship of Williams, handed Kewanee their first defeat. At one time leading, 11 to 3, Kewanee personals and a Galesburg rally collaborated to cause the score reversal. Moe played great ball, netting 16 points.

Kewanee 41 Peoria Woodruff 24

Kewanee won this game from Peoria Woodruff after trailing the first quarter. A good tight defense held Woodruff to six points the second hafl.

Kewanee 36 Davenport 44

The powerful Imps overcame Kewanee despite Fulton's sensational shooting. The visitors, paced by the eagle-eyed triumvirate, Schulz, Gildea and McTaggert, led by only one point at the start of the pay-off period, but pulled away as our shooting fell off.

Kewanee 75 Havana 32

Kewanee 42 Monmouth 23

Showing both flashes or brilliance and coldness, Kewanee was still superior to the Zippers. After scoring only 15 points in the first half, the Brockmen came back with a 17-point third quarter.

Kewanee 29 Rock Island 20

Kewanee's tight zone defense was a monkey wrench in the Rocks' scoring machine. Moe's rebounding, the all-around play of Graves, and the ball stealing of Nosalik and Tunnicliff, highlighted the game.

Kewanee 53 Wethersfield 19

Kewanee easily defeated their cross-town rivals, fast-breaking from a tight defense. Eleven Boilermakers figured in the scoring as the team hit for a neat 30 per cent.

Kewanee 30 Moline 28

Kewanee held a first quarter 9 to 1 lead, but the fighting Maroons led 17 to 13 at half-time. In an exciting second half, Kewanee's greater experience was the deciding factor. Nosalik led in scoring with 9 points.

Kewanee 45 East Moline 29

Control of the ball and the sinking of one out of every four shots spelled victory for the Kewanee cagers. They made 19 points in the second quarter as Nosalik connected for three long attempts.

Kewanee 61 Peoria Manual 36

With Fulton hitting for 20 points and Moe, 12, Kewanee overpowered the Rams. From the first quarter, when Graves put on a one-man rebounding show, the issue was never in doubt.

Kewanee 34 Galesburg 32

Kewanee climbed to a tie for the conference lead with an avenging victory over mighty Galesburg. Although ahead 22 to 21 at the end of the third after being behind 14 to 4 in the first, it took Egert's eight-point fourth quarter to provide the victory margin.

Davenport 43 Kewanee 38

The Davenport Blue Devils handed Kewanee its fourth defeat of the year. Davenport had a 41-29 lead at the beginning of the fourth quarter but Kewanee rang up nine points to come within five points of the Blue Devils.

Kewanee 43 Wethersfield 16

Wethersfield, noticeably weakened by the absence of two regulars, proved easy prey to their northern neighbors. Moe and Sjoberg led the way as ten Boilermakers scored.

Kewanee 62 Monmouth 32

Strictly on the beam with two out of every five shots swishing the net, the Orange Men drubbed Monmouth. The victory machine was powered by a very efficient fast break as Tunnicliff and Nosalik each garnered 11 points to go with Fulton's 15 and Moe's 13.

Varsity Defeats Twenty-four Teams; Loses to Five

Kewanee 48 Canton 47

Kewanee had a 7-point deficit after each of the first three quarters, but outscored the vaunted "Little Giants" in the fourth (17 to 9) to grab a one-point victory. Fulton, Moe, and Tunnicliff were the big guns and Nosalik, the hero, in a great comeback that fans will never forget.

Kewanee 23 Rock Island 33

The Boilers lost a tough one in a rough contest at the Arsenal City. Definitely off form, Kewanee's passing was erratic and their shooting frigid, while The Islanders, led by Heimbect and Montz, played superb ball.

Kewanee 47 Moline 33

After a 27-27 deadlock midway in the third quarter, Kewanee proceeded to humble the Maroons and in so doing made history; for the first time, Kewanee had beaten Moline in Wharton Field House. Bob Fulton, making his last appearance, was high-point man.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

Kewanee 47 Wethersfield 24

With high-scoring Bob Fulton in the Navy, the Boilermakers still humbled the Geese in their third meeting of the year. Leading the point-makers were Robinson and Moe, with 13 and 12 points respectively, while Wetherfield's Lofgren collected 8.

Kewanee 52 Toulon 26

Kewanee moved along the Tournament Trail by disposing of the Trojans. While the Boilermaker defense was handcuffing the highly-touted Unruh, Robinson stole the show with his 20 points.

Kewanee 55 Geneseo 36

In a game that determined the Regional Winner, the experienced Maple-leafs couldn't cope with the tough Boilers. Geneseo's Minnaert connected for 13 points, but Moe collected 16 and Robinson, 12 to pace the winners.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

Kewanee 42 Rock Island 41

In a game the experts said they could not win, Kewanee defeated the classy Islanders in story-book fashion. With but four minutes to go and in arrears seven points, Tunnicliff scored on a fast break, Moe was good for three points, and Robinson whipped in two buckets to give Kewanee the victory. Playing the best ball of his career, Moe scored 16 points.

Kewanee 59 Alpha 30

The Boilermakers bewildered Alpha with a sparkling exhibition of passing, shooting, and rebounding and displayed their famous fast break. In the sectional title game, Kewanee jumped to a 19-point first quarter lead and completely dominated play from there on. Moe again led the hoop artists with 17 points.

STATE TOURNAMENT

Kewanee 36 Paris 34

Playing before 7,500 rabid basketball fans at George Huff Gym, Kewanee eliminated last year's champions. In a tight game the score was tied ten times, but the Boilermakers surged ahead and maintained their lead with clever control of the ball. Speedy Frank Nosalik took scoring honors with 12 points.

Kewanee 30 Taylorville 51

In what proved to be the season finale, Kewanee bowed out of the State Tournament play to the eventual winners, Taylorville. The unbeaten Tornadoes, led by the cool Johnny Orre and speedy Ron Bontemps, were the class of the state. Moe's 13 points and stellar rebounding and the all-around play of Johnson highlighted the efforts of the Boilers.

Riveters Take Second In N. W. Conference

Coach Landis

The Riveters took second in the Sophomore's race for the Northwest Conference title. While losing but six, they came out on top in seventeen games. The Landismen humbled the champion Galesburg Ponies and the powerful Davenport underclassmen on successive nights.

Coach Landis molded a winner from boys who will be able to carry on Kewanee's rich basketball tradition. The starting combination was composed of three sophomores: Jim Termondt at center, Skip Ericson and Adam Lazar at forwards, and two freshmen, Bill Walton and Keith Follett, who paired at guard. These boys were cogs in a well-balanced scoring machine as their individual point totals ranged from 122 to 183.

Freshmen Win Fourteen Games Of Season

Keeping in stride with their Boilermaker and Riveter brothers, the "Welders" sported a season's record of 14 wins and 3 losses. Their only losses were to the Riveter reserves and the "Y" All Stars, while they hold decisions over Galva and Geneseo, two powerful frosh "fives." The freshmen made this impressive record during Mr. John Denning's first year as mentor.

As freshman basketball attracted a large squad of 25 boys, or five complete teams, competition for positions was very keen. The "A" team featured Eugene Nass at center, Goldie Waters and Marty O'Conner at the forward positions, and Howard Johnson and Adam Lazar as guards. Jim Landis, Bill Remick, Don Larson, Bud Burns, Jack Williams, Wayne Robertson, and Louie Wager were members of the "B" team.

Cross country is rapidly rising to a prominent place in Kewanee High sports. During a successful season, the team took first place in the Northwest Conference meet, first place in a Kewanee - Geneseo - Princeton triangular, and second at the Williamsfield Invitational.

As cross country is an excellent conditioner, many prepare themselves for basketball by running. The team practices on a three-mile course, but the official distance for meets is two and one-half miles.

Revive Baseball

After a lapse of one year, baseball has again been added to the Kewanee High sports program. The diamond men have in past years shown their power and in 1942 were a contestant in the State Finals.

An attractive schedule has been arranged which includes Peoria Woodruff, Galesburg, Canton, Peoria Manual, Davenport, East Peoria, Pekin, Sterling, and Princeville.

Track Team Sends Members to State Meet

Winning places in many meets, Kewanee's track team again showed its versatility. They won second place in the Northwest Conference, the Illini Conference, the Geneseo Relays, and the District Meet, and third place in the "A" Division of the Wheaton Relays. Representing Kewanee at the State meet last year, Dick Green brought home a second in the mile run, and Ed Tunnicliff ranked fifth among the state's broad jumpers.

The 1943 Track lettermen lost to this year's team, are co-captains Stewart and Naseef, Fahlberg, Johnson, Bystry, Fulton and Heiser. The returning lettermen and their events are: captain-elect Dick Green, 880 and mile; Ed Tunnicliff, dashes and broad jump; Gene Ziles, 100 and broad jump; Hugh DeMorest, 440; Lloyd Dyer, hurdles, shot, and discus; Kenny Hanks, pole vault; Bill Moe, high jump; and Tom Briggs, 880.

With this wealth of material and the efficient coaching of Coaches Brockman and Sosnouski, the Boilermakers are again State contenders. Scheduled for this year are such outstanding events as the Geneseo relays, the Wheaton relays or the Clinton Gateway Classic, the Davenport relays, Northwest and Illini Conference meets, and the District and State contests.

In their first big meet of the season Kewanee took first place in the Geneso relays. Ed Tunnicliff won first in the 100 yard dash, the broad jump. Dick Green took first in the mile and Bill Moe was first in the broad jump.

Winning a dual meet with Peoria Central, Kewanee broke four records: Ed Tunnicliff, the 100 yard dash and broad jump; Dick Green, the mile; and Hugh DeMorest, the 440.

Kewanee also won a meet from Canton in which Tunnicliff outran Zaborac. In a quadrangular meet with Rock Island, Geneseo and Galesburg, the Boilers again came out on top.

Girls Are Active In Intramurals

With the coming of cold winds, snow, and low temperature, the inside sports of badminton, volley ball, ping pong, and basketball were enthusiastically welcomed. The highlight of the basketball season was the game with the faculty—the faculty won. Bowling was enjoyed by the girls at the local bowling alleys. Some of the classes went swimming at the "Y" Community building.

Intramurals were held almost every night. Many girls participated in these. To keep physically fit, the girls took part in ten minutes of calisthenics every week.

Softball, that ever popular sport and sure sign of spring, was greeted by the girls as a chance to play out of doors.

As school closed many girls eagerly awaited the time when they again would have a successful year of sports.

Student Council Sponsors Paper Drive

Democracy at work in our school is exemplified by the student council. Students choose their representatives according to home-rooms. As a result of the first semester campaign, Bill Moe was chosen student council president.

The council, to honor our grand football team, sponsored a Victory Dance. They contracted Roy Pinkle's orchestra to play for the dance.

President—Bill Moe.

Starts Monitor Plan

At the beginning of second-semester a new student council was chosen by the students to direct their self-government. Don Irwin, as president, had many new ideas.

Cheerleaders for the Riveter team were the newest innovation. Because many students wanted to learn how to dance, a dancing class was planned. In accordance with the idea of various recreational facilities, fun night was established. This was one night a month the entire school building would be open to the students. A system of hall-monitors, which has had great success in other schools, was decided upon for Kewanee High.

Tri-Y Girls Support Projects of Junior Red Cross

On Saturday, February 26, they sponsored the Sock Hop, their main event of the year, which was open to the whole school. Ken Kerbit's orchestra furnished the music.

At the beginning of the year, the new members were installed at an impressive candlelight ceremony where they promised to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

They held meetings every other Monday at the Y, some of them in the form of potluck suppers. At others, the diversion was round-table discussions, Red Cross work, and speakers.

The girls elected Juanita Goode as president; Shirley Lee as vice-president; Ardis Schueneman as secretary; and Verna Ellenwood as treasurer. Under the able direction of Miss Elsie Kimmell and Miss Naomi Hawkins, the club enjoyed a successful year.

Hi-Y Stresses Sportsmanship in Athletic Contests

The purpose of Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. Hi-Y's main contribution of Kewanee High's War Effort was the sponsorship of the Hi-Y War Stamp Pledges. Their goal was to earn a minute-man flag for Kewanee High. They gained conference-wide recognition for creating "Good Sportsmanship Plus" in Kewanee High School. The club sponsored the "March of Dimes" drive which was very successful.

In February, the club sent three delegates, Bill Jones, Tom Briggs, Gordon Johnson, and the adviser, Mr. Stanley Sosnouski to the sixth meeting of the Illinois State Boys' Work at Chicago.

They sold pop at football games and checked coats at basketball games to earn money for their various activities.

Gordon Johnson was president of the club this year; Robert Graves was secretary, and Tom Briggs served as treasurer, with Mr. Stanley Sosnouski and Mr. L. R. Broaddus as advisers.

The aim of Girls' Federation is to encourage friendship, good citizenship, and leadership among the girls. With this purpose in view, all freshmen girls are assigned "Big Sisters" to help them become acquainted with school.

This year they sponsored a Victory Dance, in co-operation with Student Council, in honor of the Varsity football players.

The officers were: Marguerite Stewart, president; Betty Jones, secretary; and Margaret Allard, treasurer. The senior council members are Alice Fisher, Ardis Schueneman, Verna Ellenwood, and Jeanette Mikenas. Pallette-Brush Joins National Organization

To further the interest of Junior Red Cross, the Pallette and Brush members designed and painted Mother's Day cards for servicemen in hospitals.

Two screens, for the Kewanee High social room, were made by the group during the meetings.

The aims of Pallette and Brush are to create a better appreciation of art in all its phases and to help make others more art conscious.

The club joined the National Art Honor Society this year. In order to become a member a student has to have a B average in art, a C average or better in other subjects and submit ten original pictures in three different mediums, to be judged by a committee of artists. The club will be known as the Doris Lee chapter.

Art Club Serves

In order to help out the Red Cross, each meeting of the Art club was spent in sewing Red Cross layettes, afghans, and bedroom slippers. They also donated to the Red Cross fund.

Perhaps one of the biggest events of the club was the Art club Christmas dance. This was an all-date affair. In March, they held a Faculty Tea with Valentines as the theme. April brought forth a potluck supper for all members. The last and most successful event of the year was the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet.

Taking charge for the year was President, June Pittington. Assisting her as vice-president was Lucille Zumber. Betty Lou Anderson was treasurer, Muriel Lee, secretary, and Marcella Pudzuvelis was program chairman. Miss Dorothy Gibson was adviser.

G. A. A. Stresses Fun

Another of the little things that makes school and America really "worth fighting for" is the chance and encouragement to have "fun". Girls' Athletic Association is just such an organization at Kewanee High. It encourages fun—accent on the "F", in physical fitness, the by-word of G.A.A.

The object of G.A.A. is to stimulate interest in girls' athletics and gymnastics and to standardize and promote ideals of health and sportsmanship.

A hay-ride was held to interest the new members . . . The annual play-day was held October 2 in the form of a circus . . . To celebrate Halloween, a party was held in the social room . . . Roller skating parties took up the time of several meetings . . . In order to make money, a barn dance was held at the Y . . . The annual banquet given in honor of the seniors . . . and eighth grade play-day completed the year.

Aside from social affairs, regular monthly meetings, intramural games and tournaments were held. This year, the girls played speedball, volleyball, basketball and softball each for a period of eight weeks. The girls sponsored school ping pong and badminton tournaments.

Joan Barry served as president of the club. Helen Kirman was vice president. As secretary, the girls chose Bernadine Beyer, and Willamae Kirman as treasurer. Amelia Lopez was point secretary and Miss Dorothy Stouffer advised.

Players Club Gets Experience

Officers: Milo Sturm, sergeant-at-arms; Bob Lee, president; Connie Collins, vice president; Joan Vaughn, secretary.

Gaining experience in another of the four freedoms, Freedom of Speech, are the members of Players club.

The Players club, under the supervision of Miss Florence Drake, have discussed different phases of dramatics at each meeting. Make-up, light effects, and putting up scenery are just a few.

The annual "Night of One Acts" in March brought forth a large crowd. "Full Circle," by Anne Weathely, a domestic comedy; "Trifles," by Susan Glaspell, a drama; and "The Most Foolish Virgin," by Helen G. Glaspell, a symbolic fantasy, were the plays that were presented. Money earned from the three plays was spent for records for the social room and equipment for the stage.

Debate Emphasizes Freedom Of Speech

The debaters, here and throughout the country, this year, discussed the wisdom of the United States reconstituting the League of Nations. Here was an opportunity for the youth of America to assume a responsibility for understanding and evaluating the plans for order in the post-war world and analyzing the forces that make for peace and war.

The best performance of the varsity was the tie for first at the Pekin invitational meet. At the Northwest Conference meet at Galesburg the teams won second place. The teams participated in the Augustana tournament and won five of the twelve debates. They also entered the non-decision Mendota meet.

On the varsity affirmative team were Margaret Allard and Don Irwin. Willis Peterson, Duncan Clark and Quentin Kling were on the negative team.

The increased number of freshmen and sophomores interested this year made possible a separate set of teams for this group. This group won first at Galesburg in their only tournament of the year.

Making up this group were Dan Moore, Edward Moore, Ruth Anderson, and Lois Fincher on the affirmative. Jack Williams, Duncan Clark and Merlyn Williams made up the negative.

Seated: Merlin Williams, Ruth Anderson, Lois Fincher.

Nature Club Gets Outdoor Experience

The meetings were held every other Tuesday. In the fine fall and spring weather, they went on many hikes. On one of the hikes they visited Johnson's Greenhouse, where they learned much about the care and cultivation of flowers.

The winter habits of birds and animals, wild game conservation, and other interesting aspects of nature were topics of some of their meetings. Movies were also shown.

A party was enjoyed by the members at Christmas time. The officers who were elected at the beginning of the second semester, were: Kenneth Olson, president; Nancy McDowell, vice president; Helen Klobes, secretary, and Don McFarland, treasurer. Miss Louise Ewan's enthusiasm for nature contributed to the success of the club.

The club took up Junior Red Cross work this year. They made scrapbooks on nature to send to Service Men. The purpose of Nature Club is to instill in its members a love and enjoyment of the great outdoors.

"K" Chronicle Utilizes Freedom of Press

Pushing stamp and bond sales, scrap drives, and publishing information about Kewanee High school kept the "K" Chronicle staff very busy. The "K" took the lead in building student body morale relating to war needs.

Feeling that few of our 650 students realized the important part which high school could play in training both boys and girls for our future war efforts, the "K" attempted to play up efforts along academic lines as well as sports.

The staff this year introduced a streamlined paper. Other innovations of this year were: servicemen's column, sending papers to men in the service, and using pictures on the editorial and feature pages.

A revolving staff has been used this year, one staff serving for three issues. Don Irwin, Margaret Krumtinger, Willamae Busch, and Gladys McComack have served as editors: Marjorie Greenstreet, Marie Lippens and Bill Johnson have served as assitant and managing editors. Jean Carter, Jean Cully and Helen Kirman have acted as business and advertising managers.

Serving as reporters throughout the year were: Mary Ellen Wolfe, Joan Bell, Doris Bengson, Alice Fisher, Bill Johnson, Julia Murphy, Theresa Sobatta, Lois Bengson, Bob Blazier, Margaret Pilarski, Marjorie Orr. Henry Jasniewski served as a reporter the first semester.

Majorette and Twirlers:

Music Groups Boost Morals of K.H.S. Students

Music has earned a reputation as a morale booster. Servicemen demand it for recreation and relaxation.

The Choir does its part in boosting the morale on the home front. With Mr. Fred Waterman as the director, it presented an assembly on Navy Day, featuring the songs of the various branches of the services. The Choir furnished the background music for the annual Christmas play.

Members are chosen on the basis of their singing ability and it is an honor to be a member of the choir.

Juniors Give Mystery Play

The Junior Class of "45" presented their annual class play, a mystery, "The Thirteenth Chair," to a full house in the K. H. S. Auditorium, on Friday, November 8.

The plot centers around a spiritualistic medium who is to entertain a room full of sophisticated people with a seance. Doors are locked, lights turned low, and chairs drawn in a circle when things begin to happen. How the spiritualistic reveals the murderer and proves her daughter's innocence makes an exciting climax.

The production was under the direction of Miss Florence Drake, with Miss Eleanor Miller assisting.

Prom Is Social Highlight of Junior-Senior Students

The gym was transformed into a "Winter Wonderland," with winter scenes, snow men, snow forts, and banks, snow covered stone fences, and trees greeting the eyes as one entered from a snow tunnel. The refreshment booth represented an igloo and girls dressed as skaters served. The couples danced to the music of "The Royal Scotts of Macomb."

Heading the Grand March this year were the Junior Class President, Bill Jones, escorting Marcella Pudzuvelis; and the Senior President, Hugh DeMorest, escorting Alice Fisher.

They used the deck of a ship as their theme. Scenes around the sides portrayed sea life. The program was built around the idea that every ship has a program as it crosses the equator. Those serving were in sailor dresses.

The committee in charge of decorations were: chairmen, Marcella Pudzuvelis and Carl Grothe, assisted by Jones, Ptasnik, Peterson, Williams, Scott, Brady, Noll, Marsh, and Brand.

Editor Bob Lee and Adviser Eleanor Johnson.

Now the Kewanite staff can relax and look back on the day in October when they first started to live, dream, and breathe Kewanite. The long hours of endlessly identifying pictures, the searching for lost copy, and trying to meet the deadline left us tired but satisfied. Yet now as we look back, even with all those sleepless nights, it was really worth the effort to produce this better-than-ever- yearbook. The Kewanite room became the place of genial fun along with hard work.

Kewanite Staff Overcomes

To get the pictures she wanted, Bev Jones, photography editor, took some of them herself. Together with Ardis Schueneman, Bev was constantly identifying and sorting innumerable pictures. When the photographer failed us, Mr. Beasley, our principal, came to the rescue, and completed the group and individual pictures.

Heading the literary staff was Margaret Allard as literary editor. Hers was the job of seeing that copy was in and poof read in time to meet the deadlines. Sharlyne McFarland worked on the faculty section. Verna Ellenwood, with the assistance of Gladys McCormack wrote up the activities of the various clubs. The sport writeups were expertly handled by Bob Bjurstrom. Alice Pruessner wrote up the activities of senior

The co-art editors, Margaret Jane Spets and Eleanor Catton, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Gibson, designed end sheets, division pages and the cover of the Kewanite, to add an artistic touch to the book.

Marguerite Stewart, as business manager, counted the money, and tried to keep her account balances corresponding to those of Miss Frances Horler, business adviser. The sponsorships were solicited by a committee consisting of Joan Barry, Claribelle Girch, Ed Tunnicliff, and Dick Turnbull with the assistance of the entire Kewanite staff. In addition to these, Doris Baker, Jean Carter, Arlene Hepner, Henry Jasniewski, Doris Jenkins, Gordon Johnson, Dorothy Jones, Joan Keeling, Jean Milnes, Christina Quagliano, Joan Rule, and Mary Ellen Wolfe also collected sponsorships.

About February, the staff began to realize that the shortage of help necessitated earlier deadlines, which meant longer hours and harder work for all concerned. The theme of the book was brought vividly before the staff as they struggled with the scarcity of necessary materials, and wartime handicaps.

We present "E" awards to the following workers who helped us overcome the difficulties of publishing a year-book in a world at war!

P. D. ADLER of The Star-Courier, who gave the impetus to this year's staff. OWEN MARSH of Pontiac Engraving Company, who okayed the plans, figured the costs, and gave us many helpful suggestions. PRINCIPAL K. B. BEASLEY, who came to our rescue when our photographer failed us, and finished the group and individual pictures. CLYDE MOONEY of The Star-Courier, who had charge of the printing of this annual, checked the make-up of the book, and assisted us in selecting type. C. O. SCHLAVER, who took the football pictures, and the PFISTERER'S BINDERY, who made the covers.
